How to arrive at the conference?

You can reach Paris by trains and flights. The two main airports are Roissy Charles de Gaulle and Orly, a third minor airport is Beauvais. The main train stations are Gare de Montparnasse, Gare du Nord, Gare de Lyon, and Gare d'Austerlitz.

From Roissy Charles de Gaulle airport to Paris

To reach Paris from the Roissy Charles de Gaulle airport using public transportation, you have two options.

- Option 1. Take RER Line B (all trains go to Paris). Buy tickets at Transilien machines in the airport terminal. They have shorter waiting queues than the ticket counters. If available, you can take the direct train to Paris (the first stop in Paris intra muros when arriving from the North with RER B is Gare du Nord).
- Option 2. Take the RoissyBus or airline shuttles to reach Paris. Then use Metro or Bus Lines. Maps are available in all stations and in the airport.

To reach the conference venue (FIAP Jean Monnet of Paris) using RER Line B, step out at Denfert-Rochereau RER station. Then, it is a 10-minute walk to the FIAP, or you can take Metro Line 6 to Saint-Jacques station. Then, it is a 8-minute walk from Saint-Jacques station to the FIAP. Another way is to take Bus Line 21 (if it is in your vicinity) to the Daviel stop, then it is a 7-minute walk to the FIAP.
